PRESS RELEASE

March 26, 2019

ALTO Aviation and ROSEN Aviation announce a strategic partnership at the 62nd AEA International Convention & Trade Show in Palm Springs.

ALTO Aviation, an industry leader in cabin audio/entertainment systems, Cabin Management Systems (CMS), and Passenger Controls, and Rosen Aviation, designer and manufacturer of cabin electronic devices, have officially announced a strategic retrofit market partnership at the 62nd edition of AEA International Convention & Trade Show in Palm Springs.

Through this new partnership, ALTO Aviation becomes the one-stop option for customers looking to solve obsolescence issues, as well as for customers looking for simple, budget-friendly, customized upgrades to their existing cabin CMS/IFE.

“We’re excited to partner with an industry leader such as Rosen,” stated Don Hamilton, President of ALTO Aviation. “Their products are second to none in both performance and reliability. Adding video to our CMS offering will allow us to serve our customers for complete cabin solutions better.”

“We are pleased to collaborate with a partner of ALTO’s stature to better serve the retrofit market,” stated Carlos Carrai, President of Rosen Aviation. “Our collective reputations for product capability, quality, and customer support make this an appealing option for our aftermarket customers.”

For more information, please visit ALTO Aviation at booth # 930 and Rosen Aviation at booth # 604.
